

Dear Dr. Bellur,

I just wanted to write to say thank you ~~was~~ so much - for all of your care, compassion, and kindness during our last few appointments.

Having already said it, I felt compelled to re-iterate how grateful I am for the time you've taken to help me understand the complexities & nuances involved with the electric impulses of our hearts. I've left so many doctor's offices feeling like I must be a crazy person or doing something wrong ~~the~~ which is causing all my symptoms. I've felt helpless - until you took the time.

Thank you for seeing me, hearing me, and genuinely caring for my well-being.

It's the kind of care & humanity we should all be trying to show each other.

Happy holidays to you & yours.

Thanks again,

Jess
